Bowlers Enjoy Visit to Cranbrook and Given Warm Welcome

A Return Visit Expected from the Western City Players

Engaging a special Greyhound bus, lady and gentlemen bowlers went to Cranbrook on Wed. Oct. 31 and returned highly elated with the fine welcome given them. Following the games a banquet was served and Albert Sapeta when called on for a speech delegated W. Bell of the Grand Union to express his appreciation on behalf of the players for the fine time accorded them.

Coleman players assured Cranbrook players that on their next visit they would accord them equally as warm a reception, and a return visit is expected shortly.

Those who went with the party, including players, were: P. Rinaldi,
B. Hyphen, R. Spillars, L. Luscich, J. Sapeta, H. Zak, J. Lipow-ski, H. Olsen, J. Lysek, F. Kilgusson.

Ladies team: Mae Bell, Carrie,

KICKOFF

Basketball, Hockey Badminton Clubs Now Organizing Season's Schedules

Lethbridge and Macleod Will Probably Enter Crow League. Basketballers Planning With Other Towns to Draw Up Interesting Series for Boys and Girls

Preparations are going forward to arrange the Crow League. A meeting was held in Blairmore and it was decided to invite Lethbridge and Macleod to enter.

Of the towns Lethbridge is the only one to acknowledge the invitation and "Pop" Foster, czar of hockey in Lethbridge, has expressed his desire to enter the league. Macleod is expected to define their intention at the annual meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass hockey league to be held there in the near future.

Bellevue and Coleman are certain to enter. Doubts are expressed in regard to Blairmore entering as there is some controversy over taxes, between the town and rink committee. However it would be unusual if the Blairmore hockey fans stood back and make no move.
Rumor has it that Hillcrest may place a team but The Journal, in conversation with a leading citizen of Hillcrest, was informed it was highly improbable. He stated that Hillcrest may combine with Bellevue to organize a strong team.

Basketball Notes

The basketballers have again organized, and the ladies' section boasts of 20 members while the men's has 14. A meeting of the Crow's Nest Basketball Association was held in Blairmore on Tuesday to make arrangements for the winter schedule. Coleman will be represented by two ladies' intermediate teams and one men's intermediate team. J. McDonald will represent Coleman on the executive and he was also appointed an official referee of the league. The girls will play in Bellevue next week.

W. Bell and Jim Martin played a championship game for inter provincial honors, Bell winning two of three games, being awarded the medal.

against Bellevue in the first of the exhibition games. Towns entered in the league are Michel, Coleman, Blairmore, Bellevue and Hillcrest.

Badminton Notes

Thirty members will form the local club this season. Mrs. Lindoe has been elected president while Miss Edith Hayson will take over the duties of secretary. Games will be played in the Community hall and it is expected outside clubs will be invited to compete against local players.

Ex-Service Men Will Hold Smoker

A get-together smoking concert will be held in the Community hall on Saturday evening by ex service men, under the direction of the Canadian Legion and R. V. Mundy and Capt. Coster, of the government camps at Frank and Coleman.

Committees entrusted to make arrangements are:

Refreshment—R. F. Barnes, R.
V. Mundy, P. Smith, W. Bobbitt,
Capt. Coster.
Hall—R. Parry, W. Graham, H.
T. Halliwell.

Entertainment—W. H. Garner,
R. Lloyd, W. Martland, Mr. Taylor.
Returned men are allowed to invite a friend, and tickets are 50c.
All ex-service men invited.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

The morning service on Sunday will be withdrawn in order that the congregation may attend the Remembrance Day service in the Community hall at 10 45 a. m.

Sunday school as usual at 12 15.

Evening service at 7, when Mr.
Taylor will take as his subject, "The Healing Shadow." A suitable selection in keeping with the day will be given.

Campaign for Brighter and More Attractive Main Street

By-Laws Enforced Would Eliminate Much of Present
Sloppiness Noticed on Principal Street of Town—
Visitors Receive Poor Impression

"Use More Light" is a good slogan now that light rates have been reduced one third. Main street can stand a lot more than it has with the few pole lights and very little window illumination in stores.

Brightening the Street

Sentinel Motors new sign for Imperial Oil is a fine advertisement and sheds good light on that corner. A few more outside advertising signs similarly illuminated would add greatly to the appearance of the business section. 20 ornamental street standards would amply light the whole of Main Street. If all the pole lines and tangle of light and telephone wires were running through the lanes instead of along main street it would give a much neater appearance. Poles with all kinds of crudely written notices on them look very untidy, and even though posting notices on same is forbidden, the law is observed more in the breach than in its obser-vance.

General Statement re Fire at International Mine

(by Andrew A. Millar, chief mines inspector)

After an investigation of the conditions both underground and on the surface of International mine on Friday afternoon it was decided to re-open the seals or stoppings put in to control the fire, to determine if possible the underground conditions near where the fire was supposed to have been seen at the slope hoist inside the rock tunnels.

This was done on Saturday morning. As it was considered a hazardous job only a limited number of men, with two crews with mine rescue equipment, were allowed in the mine. They were accompanied by Chief Inspector Millar, Inspector

W. G. Healy, Superintendent Mc-Leod and the general mines rescue superintendent, J. McAndrew, also Pit Boss Alan Brown, Inspector
Richards being in charge on surface. It was intended if conditions justified to do some exploration and ascertain the extent of the fire, and to decide how to deal with it, if it appeared at all feasible to have same extinguished.

Australian Ace Lands Safely At Oakland After Long Pacific Flight

Oakland, Calif.—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith landed his big monoplane at Oakland Municipal airport Sunday, completing a 2,405-mile flight from Honolulu in 14 hours and 59 minutes.

The flying Australian knight of the air dropped from the skies at 7:44 a.m. (10:44 a.m. E.S.T.) after fighting through fog banks, ending a three-hour jump from Brisbane.

Nearly two hours ahead of his schedule, Sir Charles rocketed in at terrific speed, poked his gracesmiled face out of the cockpit and spoke a grinning apology.

"I am sorry to be so early," he remarked, "but you will have to blame my navigator, Captain P. G. Taylor." Among the crowd of 500 persons to greet the daring aviator were Harry Lyon and James Warner, who with Charles Ulm flew with Kingsford-Smith from Oakland to Australia in 1928.

Sir Charles, knighted for that daring flight, brushed aside the dangers of the Honolulu-Oakland journey, one of the longest in the world, over which he was the first to fly.

The blue and white monoplane, Lady Southern Cross, swooped like a giant bird from a height of 8,000 feet, circled the field once and then landed perfectly at a fast speed.

Sir Charles, wearing a blue denim flying suit with a big fur collar, idled the plane up to welcoming stand. There were only three city officials to greet him, but some 500 spectators already had arrived at the field prepared to await his arrival.

Sir Charles rolled back the cowl of the cockpit and out popped his gracesmiled, somewhat weary but grinning face.

"I would like to have a cigarette, a bath and then something to eat," he remarked.

Eager hands thrust cigarettes at the aviator, who grinned as the crowd pressed close to the plane.

"I've got the best aeroplane in the world," Sir Charles boasted. "From the time of the take-off at Honolulu, he had no trouble except for 15 minutes about 11 o'clock last night when he bumped into a rainstorm. That necessitated a short period of blind flying."

First Criminal Court

Court Room At The Pas Crowded When Sessions Open

The Pas, Man.—More than 200 persons from the mining camps of the north and the cities of the south crowded the rooms and corridors of the community building to attend the first criminal sessions of the court of the king's bench ever held in The Pas. Mr. Justice J. A. Adamson, Winnipeg, presided. There were 15 charges and nine indictments on the list. The charges arose out of the strike at Flin Flon on June 30.

Rocket Mail Tested
Trieste, Italy.—A steel tube was rocketed from the side of a mountain near here, and landed undamaged in a valley 2½ miles away, with a cargo of 1,600 letters. The demonstration, testing a speedy means of transporting mail between nearby points, was termed a success by its inventor, Gerard Zucher.

Labor Makes Sweeping Gains In Municipal Voting All Over England

London. Labor registered sweeping gains in returns available here from municipal elections held all over England. The heaviest losses were suffered by the Conservatives.

The results were watched with keen interest because the elections are regarded as an unusually important test of public opinion in view of the probability of a general election next year.

The results in London district showed a strong swing to the Labor side but in many municipalities in that district the turnover still left the municipal reform party ahead. The municipal reform candidates are broadly classified as Conservatives.

With 98 results complete throughout England and Wales, the results showed Labor had made 203 gains against eight losses; the Conservatives had gained 13 seats against 109

Discuss Meat Imports

Britain Submits Memorandum For Future Discussions With Dominions

London.—Conversations between British representatives and delegates from the Dominions concerning the United Kingdom's meat imports were resumed at the Dominions office and it is understood the Britons submitted a memorandum which will form the basis of future discussions.

The memorandum, it was learned, has been cabled overseas to the governments of the various Dominions for their observation. Meanwhile discussion on the question of vital significance to British farmers as well as to the Dominions, has been adjourned for at least a fortnight.

Canada and the other Dominions were represented either by the high commissioners or their representatives. Walter Elliott, minister of agriculture, and J. H. Thomas, Dominions secretary, with other British government officials were also present.

Completes Long Flight

Melrose And Hanson Reach Melbourne On November 1st

Melbourne, Aus.—C. J. Melrose, the solo flying Australian, and Lieutenant M. Hanson, the Dane, both had completed the London-to-Melbourne flight Nov. 1st, coming in seventh and eighth, respectively.

When Melrose buzzed between the pylons at Flettington race-course his reputation for coolness was considerably enhanced. Tagging behind him came the tale of how when he was lost 18 miles from Charlville he landed and hailed a passing motorist seeking directions.

"He's a casual customer all right," said the motorist later, adding his verdict to that already expressed in England a month ago when the flyer stopped from the cockpit after an eight day and nine hour flight from Australia with as little ostentation as if he had made a hop from the nearest airport.

For Another Speed Record

Malcolm Campbell Preparing Bluebird For Trials At Daytona Beach

London.—The remodeled Bluebird racing car which Sir Malcolm Campbell expects to take to Daytona Beach, Fla., early in January for another assault on his own world speed record of 272.108 miles an hour is rapidly taking shape in his workshop on the outskirts of London.

Although declining to reveal the scope of the alterations until they are completed Sir Malcolm, who is 49, told the Associated Press the new Bluebird would look "quite different" from the old.

"I have real hopes of beating the present record and possibly exceeding 300 miles an hour."

Gift Acknowledged

Winnipeg.—Hon. W. R. Clubb, Manitoba minister of public works, expressed gratification for the kindness of the people of Oliver, B.C., in sending a cartload of fruit and vegetables for use in Manitoba's drought area.

Probe Munitions Sale

British Government May Investigate Private Manufacture Of Arms

London.—The British government has decided to establish an inquiry into the private manufacture and sale of war materials, it was stated in political quarters. Official confirmation, however, was lacking for the present.

The Daily Mail said the government's decision was partly a result of the senatorial inquiry at Washington and also partly because of a dradlock in the disarmament conference.

It was believed the government also would promote other nations join a conference to discuss the manufacture and exportation of arms with a view to securing a convention establishing international control.

Such a conference, it was suggested, might take the place of the disarmament conference.

Announcement that these steps have been determined upon, it was stated, will be the government's answer to labor's demands in the House of Commons, and suggestion of the admiralty for an independent inquiry into the placing of contracts for naval construction.

Ottawa Conference

Meeting Of Provincial Premiers May Not Be Held This Year

Ottawa.—Possibility of provincial premiers agreeing on a date for the proposed conference with the Dominion government on constitutional amendments appeared so slim that Prime Minister Bennett advised those who were particularly anxious for the conference to go forward that there seemed little likelihood of getting together this year.

While several of the provinces were eager to meet at Ottawa with the Dominion government in an effort to agree on amendments and methods of making amendments to the constitution, others were "lukewarm or negative."

With Saskatchewan's provincial legislature meeting in a few weeks, Quebec's early in January and the federal house likely to assemble in January also, there was a possibility, if not a probability, that the conference would not be held at all in the near future.

Nothing To Conceal

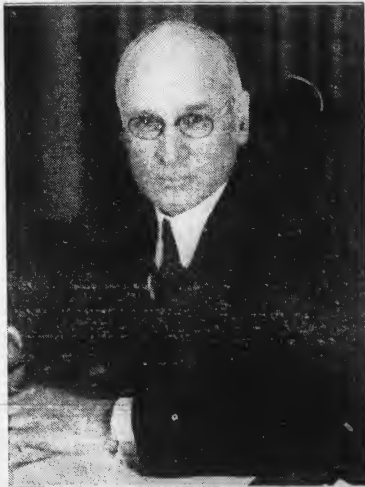

Britain Prepared To Give Every Assistance To Arms Inquiry

London.—The British government, having "nothing whatever to conceal," plans to give all factions opportunity thoroughly to air the international arms traffic situations.

A statement Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald made in the House of Commons indicated Great Britain, several of whose armaments firms were mentioned in the Washington arms inquiry, is desirous of having the entire situation searchingly reviewed.

The prime minister's declaration that the government has "nothing whatever to conceal" followed hard on the heels of assertions by Sir Bolton Eyes-Monell, first lord of the admiralty, that allegations that Vickers-Armstrong, British munitions firm had a "friend in the admiralty," were untrue.

HON. H. H. STEVENS RESIGNS

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, who resigned from the Cabinet on the mass buying issue. The resignation came after his alleged refusal to retract utterances made while chairman of the Royal Commission on Price Spreads and Mass Buying.

SCORES VICTORY

Herman Trelle recently scored another wheat victory—but this time against the elements. Poor weather conditions played havoc with crops in the Peace River district around harvest time, but they descended upon Wenlock too late. Mr. Trelle had completed his harvest.

Sedition Measure

British Government's Intention To Disfranchise Bill Subject To Change
London.—The government's intention to Disfranchise Bill passed through report stages in the House of Commons but several amendments were written into it during the brief two-day debate.

An amendment by the labor opposition providing a search warrant should be issued only by a high court judge and not as originally proposed in the bill by two magistrates, was accepted by the government. A further change was made when the government providing an amendment providing no prosecution could take place without the consent of the director of public prosecutions.

The bill purports to check distribution of seditious literature among the forces of the crown.

Baptize Quintuplets

Ceremony Is Performed At Age Of Five Months And Two Days

Callander, Ont.—Solemn ceremonies of baptism of the Roman Catholic church for the Dionne quintuplet sisters were performed at a private service at the Dafoe hospital. Rev. E. T. McNally, parish priest of Corbett, officiated.

The ceremony, performed five months and two days after the babies' birth, was a simple one. It was witnessed by members of the families of both Mr. and Mrs. Olivia Dionne, the parents, and others, including Mother Legros, father of Mrs. Dionne; Miss A. Dionne, sister of Olivia Dionne; Dr. A. R. Dafoe, the attending physician, and five godfathers and godmothers.

Asks For Large Sum

Toronto.—John Langley, young Toronto violinist, is seeking $74,000 in a lump sum or $70 a week for life from the Fidelity Assurance Company because he lost his left index finger. He contends without the finger he is totally disabled as far as his chosen profession is concerned. The company alleges the wound was self-inflicted.

Reported Federal Moneys Will Be Advanced Only For Relief Purposes

Bright Students

Third Grade Pupils In Toronto Schools Can Answer Questions

Toronto.—Two Toronto senior third grade public school classes claimed marked superiority over similar bodies in London, Ont. when several students correctly identified Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario.

Major R. J. Blaney, of Wilkinson school, and 15 of 33 pupils in the senior third grade of his school knew R. B. Bennett was prime minister of Canada and that 23 of the same group could identify Premier Hepburn. Twelve others had heard of Mr. Bennett but could not describe his office, and two appeared never to have heard of him.

Ten students did not know who Mr. Hepburn is.

Seven knew "Dizzy" Dean was a baseball player, five knew he played for St. Louis Cardinals, but the remaining pupils had never heard of him.

In a North Toronto public school, 12 third grade pupils correctly identified Mr. Bennett, five described him merely as premier, one as "governor of Ontario," two as prime minister of Ontario, one as "secretary" of Ontario and one as "president of Canada."

A National Emergency

Churchill Warns Britain That Germany Is Re-Arming Rapidly

Woodford Bridge, England.—Winston Churchill warned Britain that Germany, re-arming "secretly, illegally and rapidly," will have "over-taken us before another year has passed" in "organized military machines alone."

"A reign of terror exists in Germany in order to keep secret the feverish and terrible preparations they are making," the former chancellor of the exchequer told his constituency.

"Vice-premier Stanley Baldwin has said 'our frontiers are the Rhine.' 'Can we be sure that the men in control in Germany will not reply to that: 'Our targets are the Thames?'" A national emergency is approaching, Churchill said, as he attacked the National government for what he said was its inactivity in completing the program for air defence. Churchill declared the approaching emergency must be faced "with energy and courage if a safe, coherent and peace-keeping policy is to be found."

Trade With Newfoundland

Tariff Reductions Have Good Effect On Trade With Canada

Ottawa.—Tariff reductions announced by Newfoundland's commissioners of public utilities will, it is anticipated, have a beneficial effect on Canada's trade with Newfoundland.

In the three months ended June 30 of the present fiscal year, Canada exported merchandise to the value of $1,833,425 to Newfoundland. Exports of wheat flour, totalling 73,116 barrels, were valued at $296,106. Imports from Newfoundland during the same three months amounted to $197,367.

Rumors Of Re-Arming Of Germany Intensifies War Scare In France

Paris. Allegations of Germany's increasing military might intensified the war scare gripping France.

In great measure the fear of conflict, which overshadowed All-Saints Day pilgrimages of the French people to the graves of their war and civil dead, was based on belief the approaching plebiscite in the Saar might set off an international explosion.

For the first time since the war the French apparently were not so confident of the crushing superiority of their army, leading minister of war Henri Petain to seek urgent reinforcements for the nation's weapons of defence.

Vigilant reaction in the German press to the announcement that

Toronto.—The Mail and Empire in a special despatch from its Ottawa correspondent says the Dominion government will no longer extend loans to the provinces as has been done in the past four years.

All provinces must meet their financial problems henceforth from their own resources, the step being taken to indicate a move toward economic recovery.

Declaring the decision was contained in the reply of Hon. E. N. Rhodes, finance minister, to Premier J. G. Gardiner of Saskatchewan, who sought aid for his province, the paper adds: "Mr. Gardiner has been told that, while the federal authorities will assume responsibility for relief in the drought area on the grounds conditions there constitute a national calamity, no federal money will be forthcoming for purposes of provincial administration. The Bennett cabinet ratified Mr. Rhodes' stand."

Improving conditions which would be reflected in provincial revenues and the heavy financial burden the government is carrying were given as reasons for the decision.

It is understood a proposal has been forwarded to Premier Gardiner that an official of the finance department be placed in charge of administration of federal moneys that may be expended in that province in the future.

No details of the plan have been made public but it is known that following the announcement that an emergency grant would be forwarded at once and a formal bill submitted later, Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes worked out a plan which was later submitted to cabinet.

The intention, it is understood, was to assist the province to meet immediate requirements and co-operate in a determined effort to put Saskatchewan's finances on a more stable basis without further recourse to direct gifts of money from the federal treasury.

It is considered very unlikely that any further federal moneys will go for purposes other than relief of actual want and distress.

Beyond that it is understood financial assistance will be granted only if the economic life of the province is placed under Dominion control. As an interim measure, it is expected attempts will be made to have the province agree to a joint supervision with federal government officials working closely with the provincial in administering the financial affairs of the province.

Planning Arms Inquiry

May Investigate Private Manufacture And Sale Of Materials

London.—The British government has decided to establish an inquiry into the private manufacture and sale of war materials, it was stated in political quarters. Official confirmation, however, was lacking for the present.

The Daily Mail said the government's decision was partly a result of the senatorial inquiry at Washington and also partly because of a dradlock in the disarmament conference.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald said the government "has nothing whatever to conceal" when asked if his attention had been called to "certain evidence" before the United States senate arms inquiry.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

HAZARDS of the mine and devotion of men to duty were again strikingly demonstrated. Nothing less than a miracle or if you are a fatalist—FATE—prevented heavy loss of life. Mine rescue crews accompanying working parties—realizing the risks yet coolly determined to do real men's work, shows that there is bravery in the miners ranks surpassing that of the battlefield. The miner knows he faces risks—is not swept into them on impulse. This is indeed a test of courage, which would be fully realized by the uninitiated if they ever got lost in the dark in a coal mine, even without a fire in it.

Good window displays well lighted were noticed in two local stores during the week. These stores (advertisers in The Journal) set an example which might profitably be followed by all stores, no matter what they sell. It is surprising the impression window displays carry, and combined with impressive advertising, which by its style and set up compels attention, without question increase business. Some merchants may think that the news paper is interested only in selling advertising space. True enough, but the wide awake publisher is also interested in trying to make the space productive of results to the advertiser. The front window of the store teamed with an equal proportion of time spent in preparing an advertisement, can be made a strong lever to increase local business. As a person is judged by appearance in dress, cleanliness and personal habits, so is a store judged by those outward signs which betoken enterprise, community interest and customer goodwill.

Last week The Journal at its own expense issued to all homes an advertising sheet. One store whose advertisement was carried in it reported its second largest day's sales in two years. Asked if direct results could be traced, it was ascertained that customers specially asked for a particular item advertised as a leader in this store's advertisement. The leader was sold at cost, making an attractive purchase, but it also helped to sell other articles which might have remained unsold if the customers had not come in to purchase the leader.

Coleman merchants must intensively cultivate the local field, and The Journal tries to develop this idea (knowing that it reaps to mutual advantage, and people will buy at home if they are shown the way).

Humor of The Press

(from "The Fourth Estate")

Classified Ad: "The Ladies of St Paul's Church have cast off clothing. They may be seen in the basement from 3 to 6 o'clock."

Excerpt from a near by paper: "It is proposed to use the donations to purchase wrenches for the park as the old ones are in a very dilapidated condition."

"We want your eggs and we want them bad" an advertiser informed the public, and on another occasion, "I am now in a position to hatch your eggs."

A local read: "Mrs Galloup has been taken to the hospital for an operation. Her gasoline station will be closed indefinitely."

communication had to be established, temporary stoppings put in to control the air currents and prevent same passing in increased quantity to the fire. The seals were broken but it was found conditions were unfavorable and the inspectors and rescue superintendent decided against any further attempt to approach the fire with men equipped with rescue apparatus. Evidence was found that the fire was active by considerable temperature and smoke. The original seals were replaced in the rock tunnel as before.

As the two rock tunnels form the only connection to the outside area of the mine and the part on fire, the two parts are in a manner two separate mines. Further brick stoppings are being put in to prevent gases from the fire escaping into the other parts of the mine, and with the erection of these brick stoppings the inspectors and management consider it will be safe to resume work in the other parts of the mine. Close inspection of the fire area however will be maintained at all times. To further deal with the fire, as sealing only controls as a rule rather than extinguishes, the management is preparing to immediately put in dams to withstand high water pressure, and the fire area will be flooded.

The completion of the dams and other work is likely to take two or three weeks. Meantime work will be carried on in other parts of the mine upon completion of stoppings.

With the large area of workings sealed off and the number of openings to the surface all affording outlets to gases given off by the fire, it is considered any risk of explosion inside the walled-off section is small.

Evidence of all workmen and officials who saw fire or who were in the proximity of same has been taken but it has thrown no definite light as to how same came to originate. Different theories have been advanced, but none so far seem to fully answer the case. One thing is however pointed out, viz: That this is not what is known as an ordinary gob fire and did not originate in the old mine workings or in the gob. Once the flooding is accomplished and the workings where the fire is submerged for some time, it will be dewatered and in all probability no further fire trouble will be encountered.

The evidence taken shows the men generally exercised fine judgment in finding their way out of the mine in the fire section and there was no panic in any way, which was wonderful under the conditions that arose.

Catholic Ladies Bazaar

Despite heavy rain the annual bazaar on Monday afternoon in the Italian Society's fine hall was attended by a large number of townspeople, and brick sales were made of the various articles of fancy and home work.

The tea tables were kept busy from 3 to 6 p.m. and many willing helpers gave prompt service. The dance in the evening at which the prize drawing was made also attracted a capacity house. Evidently this annual affair is very popular, and it is anticipated the funds will benefit thereby.

Results of draw: Majestic mantle radio won by Mrs. R. Wilson; load of coal won by Sheila Devine; load of coal won by Frank Kigenon; combination screen and storm door won by Barbara Setas, Michel; electric lamp won by Mrs. W. Gate; all wool bed throw won by Mrs. T. B. Smith; cash $5 won by Mrs. R. Morris; cash $5 won by J. T. Tull, Hillest; large ham won by Mrs. Patterson; bride doll won by Mrs. S. Leaky; cushion won by Mrs. M. W. Ferguson.

CARD OF THANKS

The Catholic Ladies Aid thank all who donated prizes and those who by their attendance or in any way supported them in their annual bazaar.

Inspector Miller Addressed Miners

In the Community hall on Monday afternoon mine workers of International Co. were addressed by A. A. Miller, chief inspector of mines, who assured them he would aid the mine safe in which to resume work. He complimented them on the orderly manner in which they vacated their work places following the fire alarm.

A vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Miller by the meeting for his thorough explanation of the measures taken by the mine management and the mine branch officials to safe guard lives in the mine.

CANADIAN WRITES OF CRUISE
Thoughts of travel to far places where hot sunny days make nature's covering seem more reasonable than for costs are coincident with the sound of coal rattling into cellars in preparation for the long winter, and a very timely book that will be of great assistance to travel-minded people has just appeared. It is "—and ships—and sealing-wax" by Alan Maurice Irwin, published by Macmillans. Last year the author, who is a Canadian journalist, cruised around the world in the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain, and this book is a collection of his impressions, a companionable, intriguing sort of book in which he has written delightfully of nice and naughty things, handled a hard-working camera with becoming discretion, and argues in the manner of Kipling that the "Colonel's Lady and Lady O'Grady are sisters under the skin."

The Mediterranean, Egypt, India—where the author lunched with Lord and Lady Willingdon, the Malay Peninsula, little known Cambodia, China, Japan—even Hollywood, are amongst the places he writes about.

S. Morgan-Powell, noted literary critic of the Montreal Star, writing of "—and ships—and sealing-wax," says: "Mr. Irwin has the light, whimsical touch invaluable for such a record as this, since it enabled him not only to remember what is vivid but to forget what is not worthy of remembrance. It also provides a most attractive medium by which to stimulate the interest of those who have hitherto been compelled for one reason or another, to enjoy their travels almost vicariously."

On January in the Empress of Britain sets out again on her cruise around the world, visiting the ports that provided the copy for "—and ships—and sealing-wax". Her 400 passengers will see the scenes described in the book, experience encounters similar to those recorded by the author, and during the 120 days they are away, will call at 32 ports in 24 different countries.

For those who do not make the cruise, this reviewer recommends "—and ships—and sealing-wax", for those who do it is a practical text book.

Believe It or Not, by---?

Dropping into McGillivray Co. offices while scouting for news, reporter remarked on the neat appearance of the place. "Yes," replied a member of the staff; "once a gentleman stopped here, walked into the general office with his suitcase, and on looking around, said: 'Excuse me, I thought this was a hotel, but I see it's a bank.' To which his listener replied: 'You're wrong on both counts; it's a jail.' The visitor smilingly made his exit."

Walking in the Rain

With a pleasant downpour of rain, the reporter was seized with a desire to up and browse around West Coleman and Caribou. As great minds apparently think alike, it was no surprise to meet Dr. Borden engaged likewise. On the walk back, a friendly call was made on Walter Hobbitt, who with beaming countenance looked up with surprise from behind the counter, wondering what the object was of the visit. The doctor walked over to a nice hunk of cheese, saluted it with the big knife lying on the block, cut of a couple of samples, the taste of which was indeed appetizing, and after Walter enquired if there was anything else to day, the visitors departed. But it is only fair to give an "A 1" rating to the excellence of Walter's cheese, even if it was a cheery way of making a call. Probably he may have wondered if some crackers and beer would be requested to accompany the cheese.

Farewell Party to

Mr. and Mrs. R. Evans

On Tuesday, Oct. 30, a supper and short concert was held in the United church as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans, who for many years have been active and esteemed members of St. Paul's United church. Some fifty members sat down to a tasty repast prepared by the Ladies Auxiliary. After the supper Mr. James Fairhurst acted as chairman and in a few well chosen words explained the purpose of the gathering.

Several musical and vocal numbers were rendered and Mrs. Robert Holmes gave a reading which was much appreciated. John Petroski gave two delightful violin selections and Miss Winona Taylor sang two vocal numbers. The C.G.I.T. under the leadership of Miss Gladys Higginbotham gave two short sketches which were very well done and enjoyed by all. Miss May Powell acted as accompanist. Mr. Taylor then presented Mrs. Evans with a hand bag, and Mr. Evans with a key case and a wallet. Mr. Taylor along with Mr. Lees, Mr. Williams, Mr. Right, Holmes and Mr. Fairhurst spoke a few words of farewell in which was stressed the place which Mr. and Mrs. Evans filled during the long years in the church life. Mr. and Mrs. Evans feelingly replied and departed with the good wishes of the entire gathering. Contributed

Remarkable New Aid in Avoiding Colds—Samples Free at Local Druggists

Every Family in This Locality Offered a Free Trial

Of Its Ideal Companion, Vicks VapoRub

RESULT OF RESEARCH

New Aid in Preventing Colds
Leads to Plan for Better
Control of Colds

PLAN EASY TO FOLLOW

Years ago, Vicks VapoRub introduced the modern method of treating colds. Now, Vicks Chemists have developed the ideal companion to VapoRub—Vicks Vapo-nol—the new aid in preventing colds.

These two preparations, together with a few simple rules of health, form the unique Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. The helpfulness of Vicks Plan in reducing the number, duration and dangers of colds has been clinically tested by practicing physicians. (The Plan is fully explained in each Vicks package.)

Here, briefly, is how Vicks Plan works:

To Help Prevent Colds

Watch yourself and children after exposure to any condition apt to be followed by a cold—such as: Contact with others having active colds—crowded public places, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms—sudden changes in temperature, wet or cold, or unaccustomed exposures—excesses in living which lower resistance, such as over-eating, smoking or drinking—after a hard day when you are overtired.

Then, if you have that stuffy, sneezy irritation in the nasal passages where most colds start, use Vicks Vapo-nol at once—just a few drops each nostril. Used in time, Vapo-nol helps to prevent many annoying colds, and to throw off colds in their early stages.

To Help Shorten a Cold

If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, apply Vicks VapoRub over throat and chest at bedtime. Through the skin, VapoRub acts directly like a poultice. At the same time, its medicated vapors are inhaled with every breath direct to the inflamed air-passages. This combined double action through the night loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion.

During the day—any time, any place—use Vicks Vapo-nol every few hours as needed. This gives you full 24-hour treatment without the risks of constant internal dosing, which so often upsets the digestion, especially of children.

Trial Packages Free

Your druggist has free combination packages containing trial sizes of Vapo-nol and VapoRub—also folder telling how these twin aids to fever and shorter colds are used in Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Ask for yours today, as your druggist's supply is limited.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 11

THE CHRISTIAN CITIZEN

Golden text: "All they that take the sword shall perish with the sword." Matthew 26:52.

Lesson: Galatians 5:13-25.

Devotional reading: Micah 4:1-5.

Explanations and Comments

Live at Peace With One Another, verses 13-15. The people to whom Paul wrote this letter lived in Galatia, the Roman province which extended north and south across the central plateau of Asia Minor. In Southern Galatia were the cities where Paul founded churches on his second missionary journey—Antioch in Pisidia, Iconium, Lystra and Derbe. He visited Galatia again on his third missionary journey, and two or three years later wrote this letter.

In the beginning of the fifth chapter, Paul tells his readers that Christ sets them free from the bondage of the old law, and urges them to hold fast their freedom. Then in our lesson text he tells them not to err in thinking that freedom from the requirements of the law means disobedience to its spirit, which is that of love to others. "To men who have been accustomed to think of the law as the only obstacle to free self-indulgence, or to those who have not been accustomed to high ethical standards, freedom from the law was easily taken to mean that for the Christian there is nothing to stand in the way of the unrestrained indulgence of his own impulses. Of this danger Paul is well aware (Rom. 6:1; Phil. 3:17)."

Brothers, wrote Paul, you are free from the law, but Christian liberty does not mean that you can do as you please. Liberty means love to others, and beginning with this, the only way to freedom is to live in accordance with the law of love. "Flesh" is used here for "that element of man's nature which is opposed to goodness and makes for evil. It signifies the entire potency of sin." Through loving, which is the whole divine law, you fulfill the whole divine law, which is, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

"A Christian man is the most free lord of all, and subject to none; a Christian man is the most dutiful servant of all, and subject to all" (Martin Luther).

Then, remembering that the Galatians were prone to quarrel, Paul adds, "But if ye bite and devour one another [act toward one another like dogs or wild beasts], ye shall destroy one another" (one another's spiritual life).

"No man resolved to make the most of himself can spare the time for personal contention. Still less can he afford to take all the consequences, including the violation of his temper and the loss of self-control."

Little Journeys in Science

GLASS

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Historians tell us that the Egyptians discovered how to make glass. The production of glass on a large scale started in Egypt about 1370 B.C. Alkali (sodium carbonate) was melted with crushed quartz, limestone, and copper compounds in crucibles to give a blue glass. Glass made in Egypt was shipped to all parts of the Roman Empire.

Science has shown the modern manufacturer how to produce many new and useful kinds of glass. Ordinary glass, which is composed of soda, lime and sand, cracks readily when suddenly heated or cooled. If common glass is heated strongly it softens, and vessels made from it change their shape. The addition of boron compounds and certain metallic oxides to the formula of ordinary glass produces a type of glass known as Pyrex glass, which can stand high temperatures. Recently scientists have produced pyrex glass by replacing some or all of the lime with aluminum or some other metals.

Pyrex glass is strong and stands changes in temperature so well that cooking dishes can be manufactured from it. Silica, commonly known as sand, can be converted into a transparent glass known as silica glass, which can be heated to redness and plunged into cold water without being fractured.

Optical glass for lenses of all kinds is produced by adding lead oxide to the glass mixture. Optical glass must be free from air bubbles or stringy inclusions. Cheap imitations of gems are made from glass very rich in lead (paste), and the glass of which cut-glass vessels is made is of this same kind but it contains less lead.

Recently a plate glass has been produced in England which has special strength and toughness. The glass does not splinter when broken, but forms small comparatively harmless fragments. This toughened glass is about five times as strong as ordinary plate glass.

"Old Matt" Was Carriage Attendant In London Thirty Years

"Old Matt", a familiar character in London, who is estimated to have opened the doors of more than 2,000,000 private cars, taxicabs and hansom cabs, had died in this city, aged 74. His name was Walter Matthews, and for thirty years he was the carriage attendant outside Simpson's in the Strand. In his youth he was a noted boxer, and later went to New York as a butler. Since returning to London he declined several offers to return to the United States.

A Clever Artist

English Artist Uses Wood For Canvas And Picture

At Southampton lives one of the most unusual artists in the world—a carpenter who "paints" pictures with pieces of wood. He uses three-ply wood for a canvas and in one of his pictures—showing a tree in leaf—nearly 3,000 pieces of wood were used. He obtains light and shade effects by selecting the right grain markings. It is impossible to detect joins when the pictures are finished. They are coated with a clear white polish and framed in ebony. Rare and expensive woods from all over the world go to the making of these unique pictures. Some woods are so brittle that they must be cut with great care before being glued into position. When the Queen admired six of the pictures at an exhibition in London she was informed they had taken four years to complete.

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

THE TENDERFOOT

By GEORGE B. RODNEY
Author of "The Coronado Trail,"
"The Canyon Trail," Etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen near to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

But Keene decided to go see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Keene, half owner of the Hour-Glass Ranch, but as Duro Stone, tenderfoot in a Montgomery Ward window outfit.

Paul Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now, is returning to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grabbed him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of it to them. He sees Broken Spur men rushing Hour-Glass cattle and property against it.

Spike Goddard and Sam Dustin, fearing the old prospector may tell others the things he has seen as to the branding of Carr's cattle, plot to get him to show them the location of the mine and then to kill him.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER IV.—Continued

Dustin swung about to face a gray little figure that stiffened at sight of him. Sam Peters had been cashier of the Seco Bank for more than thirty years. Scotch by descent and cautious by nature, only once had he ventured to extend his activities beyond Seco. He was like Kipling's muskrat that all his life tried to muster courage to run to the middle of the floor. Peters mustered that courage once . . . and Dustin caught him with a loan of five thousand dollars on his house. That loan saved Peters his bank job but it made him the bond-slave of Sam Dustin.

"Just a moment, Peters," Dustin drew him aside. "How much money does old man Carr owe the bank? I've got to know."

"The bank?" Peters quavered. "He don't owe the bank at all, Mr. Dustin. He did owe the bank but old man Pegram took it up. It's a note and Mr. Pegram's wonderin' right now what to do with it. He's lost a lot of money and needs cash."

"How much is the note for?"

"Well . . . Old Carr hasn't paid any interest on it for a year. It's about twelve thousand dollars right now. And I'll tell you more . . . Old man Pegram better let go all holds on it just as soon as he can. Old Carr's in a bad way."

Dustin's heart gave a great jump. This was better than he dared hope. He stared hard at the little figure before him.

"I've got a five thousand dollar note of yours, Peters," he said. "It's secured by this house and lot, eh?"

"Yes, sir. That's so. . . . Something hard in his throat seemed to choke the little gray cashier."

"That note of yours is due next week. I want that note of Carr's that Pegram's got. See?"

"I . . . sir . . . I, I swear I don't see how I can fix it. It's Mr. Pegram's private business. I . . ."

More than ever did Sam Peters regret that accused flyer in wheat that was to remove him and his old wife from any danger of poverty. He made one final wriggle for escape.

"As matters stand, I don't see how it can help you to own a half share of the Hour-glass ranch," he said.

"Half of it! You're a plain fool, Peters. I'll own the whole place; Soda Springs and all," he added. "Old man Carr owns the Hour-glass, don't he?"

"He owns half of it," said Peters. "That's all. When old man Peters 'vinted died, he left the Hour-glass half to Joe Carr, his old partner, and half to his sister's son, one Gerald Keene. When Carr wanted to borrow on his half of the place, we had to look up the will. That's how I know I saw the will. It says that if either Carr or Keene dies, his half goes to the survivor. . . ."

"For the love of God! . . ." Dustin was breathless. . . . "Say that again."

"Peters said it again and Dustin, sure that he had not misunderstood, let go a smoke-screen of profanity. It was not the jovial profanity of good-nature but the vitriolic overflow of one who fears he has been hurt and who is not sure of the extent of the injury. In one brief kaleidoscopic moment the failure of his plans seemed sure. If Gerald Keene, the nephew of old Peter Vinton, owned half the Hour-glass then, Sam Dustin, even if he succeeded in ousting Joe Carr, could only get a mere partner whom he did not even know.

He sized old Peters and whirled him about in the moonlight to face him. There was but one thing to be done. Too much depended on what old Kane knew. That miserable old desert-rat could send him and Spike to jail for a half a lifetime and Joe Carr could keep him out of a fortune. The solution came in a sudden storm of ill-considered impulse.

"If you want to keep a roof over your old wife's head," he snarled, "you buy up for me every scrap of paper that old Carr has signed. I want to own the half-share of the Hour-glass. Get me?"

Peters gaped helplessly at him. "I mean what I say, you old fool. Where can I find this man Gerald Keene? The man who owns the other half of the Hour-glass?"

"I don't know," Mr. Dustin. "I swear I don't. Nobody knows. Even Mr. Carr don't know. He's been tryin' to find him through Mr. Burley of the Drovers Bank in Cato but he wrote us that he was handling Mr. Keene's business and that Mr. Keene was travelling somewhere and couldn't be reached just now."

Dustin grunted disbelief but he could do nothing at present. He had plenty of money in the bank and Peters knew it. There was no question of the value of the check that Dustin wrote at the hotel desk and passed to the gray-faded little cashier who took it shakingly. He pouched it, refused a cigar and headed for the bank feeling like a condemned criminal who has received notice of an unexpected reprieve.

"I'm sorry for old Carr," he muttered; "but I can't help it. I can't see Mame go to the Poorhouse and that's what'll happen if Dustin sues out that note. Oh, well! What's the use kickin'. But I wish I could put a spoke in Dustin's wheel."

He saw Pegram at the bank who was only too glad to get rid of Carr's note for Dustin's check and he turned that over to Dustin who promptly headed back for the Broken Spur. He found Spike anxiously awaiting him and he was drawn into the office by a nod from his partner.

"What luck, Sam?"

"The best in the world except for one thing. I found out that old Carr does not own all the Hour-glass. He owns half of it. The other half belongs to one Gerald Keene, nephew of old Peter Vinton. If either Carr or Keene dies, the other gets the whole place. . . ."

"Well?" said Spike who saw no further than the end of his nose. "You call it well, do you? Damned if I do. I can't get at this man Keene. No one seems to know his address. If I could find him, I'd offer to buy his share of the Hour-glass. One thing is sure now, though. We've simply got to find out from old Dad Kane the exact place where he located that ore."

"I hope you can shut his damned mouth," said Spike passionately. "Ed. Raynor, the tax collector, was here for grub and old man Kane began shootin' off his face. He was stringin' 'er Gay and Corse about what he seen 'em doin' up in the hills. I headed him off in time and I don't think Raynor caught on to what he was sayin'. . . . What you goin' to do?"

He asked sharply for Dustin, with a sharp little oath, was heading for the bank-house.

Old Dad Kane, standing just inside the door, was suddenly snatched off his feet and was sent spinning against the wall. He turned like a flash and a rusty old six-gun, a cap and ball affair, was thrust under Dustin's nose.

"You keep yore hands where they're used to bein'. . . . In other men's pockets" was sent coming into the room. "What you want? Hey?"

"To shut your fool head and to keep you from lettin' all the world in on what you found. You damned old fool! Don't you know that a hundred men up Red Water come into the house. I want to talk to you."

Wholly angry, sweating incoherent threats at every pore, Kane followed Dustin into the office. Once in the room Dustin turned on him:

"Look here, Dad. . . . His very tone was placating for he had time to reflect. . . . It's all my fault. I just couldn't stand seein' our one chance of a fortune go glimmerin' just because you talk too damned much. I don't know just what you said but I do know that after a long time in the hills most men's jaws redden. You mustn't give any one even a hint that you found pay-dirt in the hills. If you do, we're busted. You know well enough that one word of gold in Red Water will start a stampede up there. Where'll we be then?"

Weekly Newspaper Association

Successful Convention of Saskatchewan Section Held in Regina

A well attended convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association (Saskatchewan section) was held in Regina on October 26. Mr. H. Gamble, publisher of the Advance, Gull Lake, was elected president for the ensuing year.

Mr. Gamble has been a member of the association for 17 years. Born in Cumberland, England, he served his apprenticeship in the printing trade in the Old Country and came to Canada in 1905. He has been connected with the Gull Lake Advance since 1915.

Mr. Gamble succeeds Donald C. Dunbar, veteran proprietor of the Wapella Mercury, whose 40 years of newspaper experience has won for him the title of "Dean of western journalism." Mr. Dunbar was elected honorary president.

S. N. Zingg of the Wapella Post, another veteran of 37 years of Saskatchewan newspaper work, was elected vice-president, and S. J. Dorman, Alameda Dispatch, was re-elected secretary-manager of the association for the twelfth year in succession. Mr. Dorman was given a vote of thanks by association members for his services during his years as secretary-manager.

Appointed as this year's executive were S. N. Wynn, Yorkton Enterprise; C. W. Holmes, Rosemont Eagle; O. D. Stitt, Radville Star; H. Berryman, Blaine Lake Echo; J. O. Vopni, Davidson Leader.

North Pole Controversy

Claim Dr. Cook Came As Close To Pole As Admiral Peary

The claims of Dr. Frederick A. Cook to discovery of the North Pole were credited by J. Gordon Hayes, Polar historian, with as much accuracy as those of Admiral Robert E. Peary.

In his book, "The Conquest of the North Pole," published recently, Hayes said many of Cook's statements "may be accepted as genuine and truthful."

Reverend Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Floyd Bennett were said by Hayes to have been the first persons actually to reach the Pole.

"Admiral Peary," Hayes said, "never was within 50 or more miles of the North Pole. There have been many critics of Peary's claim on both sides of the Atlantic, and all disinterested inquirers have come to the same conclusion—that he didn't reach the Pole; by this it may be understood he never was within 50 or more miles of its position."

Hayes submits Dr. Cook in 1908 "probably reached at least as high a latitude as that attained by Admiral Peary the following year; that Cook's statements except in relation to his attainment of the North Pole and possibly his glacial island, may be accepted as substantially genuine, truthful and accurate."

When automobiles travel at speeds in excess of 40 miles an hour more power is required to overcome air resistance than road resistance. More power is also required to overcome accident resistance.

Here's a tasty table delicacy for the Fall of the year—Apple Roll, made just at the season when firm, flavorful apples are at their finest. It's better too, when it's made with PURITY, the high quality all-purpose flour. In specialties, as in staple baking, such as bread, rolls, pies and cakes, you'll find PURITY products always uniform. Western Canada hard spring wheat from which it is milled is selected personally by PURITY FLOUR representatives. Its quality is maintained always at the same high level. Guesswork is eliminated, and when you use PURITY FLOUR you'll find that one brand, and that PURITY, is all you need for all your baking.

Little Helps For This Week

"He that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" 1 John 4:20.

Old friends, old scenes, will lovelier be. As mote of heaven in each we see.

Some softening gleam of love and prayer Shall dawn on every cross and care. —J. Keble.

It requires far more of the constraining love of Christ to love our cousins and neighbors of the heavenly family, than to feel warm to our suffering brothers in Tuscany or Madeira. To love the whole Church is one thing, to love, that is to delight in the graces and veil the defects, of the person who misunderstands us and opposed our plans yesterday, whose peculiar infirmities grate on our most sensitive feelings, or whose natural faults are precisely those from which our natural character most revolts, is quite another.

A Temple there has been upon earth, a spiritual Temple made up of living souls, a Temple with God for its light and Christ for its high priest, with wings of angels for its arches, with saints and teachers for its pillars, and with worshippers for its pavement. Wherever there is Faith and Love this Temple is—J. H. Newman.

LIFE MOVES IN CYCLES

Life moves in cycles and all seeming change Is but the glitter of the turning wheel. For there is no new thing and nothing strange Does the long passage of the years reveal.

There is no change. The Grecian Hele look Was clear as yours when she was glad and young. Though now, between the pages of a book Her story dims in a neglected tongue.

Life moves in cycles. Helen once was fair As you to-day, for Paris' eyes to see As you for mine, and on your cheek's you wear No brighter beauty's banner than did she.

Though I could doubt your like has been before, Life wheels like stars, what has been comes once more!

Could Not Be Done

Uncle Tom: "So that's the baby?" Father: "Yes."

Uncle: "I hope you'll bring him up to be a conscientious, upright young man."

Father: "I'm afraid that'll be difficult."

Uncle: "Bah! As the twig is bent so is the tree inclined."

Father: "Yes, but this twig is bent on being a girl, and we're inclined to let it go that way."

Canadian western sheep ranges produce annually from 150,000 to 200,000 lambs suitable for fattening purposes. In addition, there are at least 100,000 to 150,000 unimpaired farm lambs that would benefit by being fattened.

Commandery Chapter in Canada

O. E. S. Whiteside Honored In Appointment as Officer

"Canadian First Aid," official journal of the Canadian Branch of St. John Ambulance Association, states that:

"Under date of August Second, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-Four, His Majesty the King, on the advice of His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, Grand Prior of the Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, granted authority for the establishment in Canada of a Commandery of that Order. Its Title shall be 'The Commandery in Canada of the Grand Priory in the British Realm of the Venerable Order of the Hospital of St John of Jerusalem.'"

Following the first meeting of the Commandery chapter, an investiture was held and among those honored were John Mills Imrie of Edmonton, who was made the commander of the order, while O. E. S. Whiteside, of Coleman; Major R. B. C. Thompson, Lethbridge, and E. H. Starr of Calgary were made serving brothers.

Miss Janie Megarry of Cardston was decorated as a serving sister.
